

the two observables move together proportional in the low-noise regime

